The Insurance Services Office (ISO) is a nationwide nonprofit organization that provides rating services to property and casualty insurance industries.

The latest revision of the ISO's Fire Suppression Rating Schedule classifies fire protection into 10 categories, Class 1 recognizing the highest level of fire protection and Class 10 recognizing the lowest or no level of fire protection.

The Fire Suppression Rating Schedule includes three major sections: Fire Alarm, Fire Department, and Water System.

The Fire Alarm section includes the means for the public to report a fire (911), how the fire department receives the alarm of fire, and how firefighters and stations are alerted and dispatched to the fire.

The Fire Department section considers apparatus, equipment, staffing, automatic and mutual aid, prefire planning, and training. The interrelationship of engines, trucks, rescues, and other stations and departments is also considered. The Water System section considers the supply works, main capacity to deliver water flow, distribution of hydrants, hydrant size, type, and installation, hydrant inspection frequencies and condition, and alternative water supplies.
